PUBLIC STATEMENT

Thank you to all the everyday people who volunteer time, ideas, advice and energy for free – and with the best intentions – to make the red list happen. Thank you also to those organizations and public personalities who have supported the red list and helped establish our credibility.

Our journey will continue to evolve and requires some strategic re-visioning which is resulting in a few changes as to how we do things.

We have taken the difficult decision to end our close affiliations with all organizations and spokespersons in order to streamline and refine the red list, and also to enable us to protect our independence, and safeguard our reputational integrity and vision going forward.

The objective of this cause of action is to prevent any conflict of interest that may arise between the red list and organizations with whom the aforementioned spokespersons and organizations may have affiliated themselves to.

The action undertaken by the red list is based on a very strict code of ethics.

We look forward to fighting the corruption and malfeasance that appears to have permeated virtually every strata of our daily lives.

We are very aware that not one person or organization can overcome what is happening on their own and we look forward to continue working together in healthy, integrous, serving relationships and celebrating the victories together!

Dankie. Enkosi. Thank you.
